A word from the Archbishop of Canterbury

My letter this month is a statement by the archbishop concerning the ongoing horrors in the Holy Land. Please continue to pray for all those innocent people, especially the children, who have been killed, injured and displaced in this brutal conflict. The hospital that the archbishop mentions is the one that was destroyed in the recent missile attack. Rev'd Ann

Statement by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Revd Justin Welby:

*'Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:
they shall prosper that love thee' (Psalm 122)*

Our grief and shock only grows greater as more devastating news and images emerge from the abhorrent terrorist attacks in Israel. The agonising suffering endured by those who were targeted and their families can scarcely be imagined. Our hearts are broken open by the grief of Israelis and our Jewish brothers and sisters around the world, for whom this trauma and loss stands in the dark and terrible shadow of the worst days of their history.

I beg that those who have been taken hostage are set free into safety, that they and their loved ones might be released from the horror of their captivity. The anger felt by the people of Israel at the cruelty they have experienced is entirely justified. Many around the world share in that anger.

But in the face of a ground offensive in Gaza, I plead that the sins of Hamas are not borne by the citizens of Gaza, who themselves have faced such suffering over many decades. The price of evil cannot be paid by the innocent. Civilians cannot bear the costs of terrorists. International humanitarian law recognises that, for the sake of everyone's humanity, some acts can never be permissible in the chaos of warfare. I pray that Israel does everything it can to limit the harm caused to innocent civilians.

Over two million civilians in Gaza, half of them children, are facing a catastrophe. A humanitarian corridor and convoy are needed as rapidly as possible, as set out in the Geneva Conventions. I pray particularly for the Anglican-run Ahli Arab Hospital and all those caring for the injured, who need medical supplies and generator fuel.

The Archbishop of Canterbury continues ...

I join with the US Secretary of State and others in urging the Israeli government to exercise their right of defence with the wisdom that might break the cycles of violence under which generations have struggled. Amidst the chaos and confusion of war, and as much as is possible, I join the calls for Israel's military response to be proportional and to discriminate between civilians and Hamas.

Pray for the people of Israel, Gaza and the West Bank. Pray for the future of the Holy Land. Pray for those who will weep, and fear, and die tonight.

Lord God, we pray, by your great mercy, defend your children from all perils and dangers of this night.

A Message to all our Readers

This November & December 2023

'Slice of Suffolk' Benefice magazine is the last until a new editor is found.

Thank you.

When: Every third Tuesday in the month

Where: Campsea Ashe station

What time: 10.30 – 12.00

A few of you came along to the Station Cafe in Campsea Ashe on Tuesday 17th for coffee and chat and I think we set the world to right and enjoyed each other's company. It was good to have people from three of our parishes meeting together. We will be repeating this on Tuesday 21st November from 10.00 to 12.00. Come along to meet me and each other.

I know that parking may be difficult, but you can park either in the small car park on the other side of the road from the cafe or we have been given permission to park in the large car park of the Clarke and Simpson auction centre which is just around the corner.

Brandeston Film Club

Our next film on Friday 10th November will be The Old Oak. Doors open at 7.00 p.m. for a 7.30 p.m. performance. It is set in a small town near Durham, whose focal centre is the titular pub. Landlord TJ Bannatyne (Dave Turner) is struggling to stay afloat during economic uncertainty. As the film begins, the town, previously a mining community that has now plunged into poverty, faces rising tension when Syrian refugees are placed in local homes. While this is met with hostility by the locals, Bannatyne forges a relationship with Yara (Ebla Mari), one of the refugees, and her family, as they organize a food initiative to help the town community.

"A lot could be said about The Old Oak's beautiful cinematography, excellent acting, and marvellous directing, all of which make this story come to life, but what really stands out the most in the film is the humanity that shines through-out. It is a beautiful reminder of what a community is and can be, regardless of country of origin, religion, or skin colour." Loud and Clear Reviews

A Wreath on behalf of the Parish Council will be laid but if anyone else wishes to lay a wreath please let either myself or Nan Waterfall our Church Warden know.

Campsea Ashe

St. John the Baptist, Campsea Ashe

A huge thankyou to all who did altar flowers this year, and to those who decorated windows and the church for Christmas, Easter and Harvest. We are now looking for volunteers to join the altar rota in 2024 to ease things a little for our regular rota members. This would involve doing the altar vases, usually twice a year, each time covering two Sundays. Help also at the three major Church festivals would be much appreciated.

If this interests you, please email me, Fiona Dawe, at: patrickdawe@btinternet.com. or telephone: 01728 746082

The 1921 Census for Campsea Ashe

Transcript: https://www.campseaashechurch.org.uk/1921_census.php

Using the Find My Past website, and with support from the Parish Council, the village's Heritage Group has recently analysed the returns for Campsea Ashe.

There were approximately 90 households in the village in 1921, amounting to 394 souls (194 males, 200 females) so the average household size was 4.4 people. The oldest residents were James Ling (89) and Emma Ling (85.) There were 151 youngsters of 18 and below, half of whom were roughly of school age; 28 were infants of 2 years or less. 341 (86%) of villagers were from the East of England, most having been born in Suffolk. 51 specifically declared Campsea Ashe as their birthplace and a further 44 were from the immediately surrounding villages, meaning that a quarter of the village's population originated from within a radius of just 5 miles from Campsea Ashe.

A total of 242 Campsea Ashe residents (just over 60%) declared that they were in employment or otherwise had an 'Occupation', these being predominantly agricultural in nature. Reflecting the prevailing pattern of Farmer/Landowners and Employees, a great many labourers, farmhands, dairy-workers, gardeners and servants worked for a relatively small number of employers, usually under foremanship or supervision.

The one exception to this general pattern was the Great Eastern Railway with the Station ('Wickham Market') and Goods Yard employing a number of skilled and semi-skilled workers. There was little other activity within the village beyond the Church, Public House, School, shop and some modest 'cottage' type businesses such as smallholdings and the blacksmith. Several more residents were independently employed by the District or County local authorities. Restrictive convention in the 1920s meant that almost all women – housewives and mothers regardless of social status - were simply identified with 'Home Duties', and there were 78 such women listed. In very broad terms of 'social class there were about 20-30 'Own Account' and 'professional' persons in Campsea Ashe. Most prominent were the major land-owners, notably The Rt. Hon. J Lowther of the High House and Lord Alastair Graham of Park House (now Chantry Farm), but there were local farmers and business-owners as well; also the Rector (the Rev. Archdeacon Charles Cory), schoolteachers, local authority officers and the Station Master (Frederick Stowe).

At the next level were approximately 50-60 Skilled & Semi-skilled workers such as Farm Bailiffs, Foremen, Business Managers / Supervisors a builder, bricklayers, cowmen, horsemen and shepherds.

Census Continued ...

Also included here were senior domestic employees – cooks, nursemaids, head gardeners and tradesmen such as dozen or so railway specialists like signalmen, shunters and plate-layers. This left the majority of villagers, numbering another 80-90, in low-skilled or casual employment : labourers, roadmen, gardeners, domestic servants, shop-assistants and the like. About ten individuals were recorded as retired or unable to work through disability

This, then, is the village profile of 100 years ago, just after the Great War in which 18 of Campsea Ashe's young men sadly lost their lives. Given that the war had such an impact on people's lives throughout Britain, further study to compare this 1921 picture of Campsea Ashe with previous censuses may give an insight into factors such as mobility, the emergence of a 'middle class and the increasing recognition and influence of women. The Campsea Ashe Heritage Group hopes to explore these issues in due course.

Christmas Angels

Last year at Christmas our Church was filled with beautiful paper and knitted angels throughout the Christmas period. The Heritage Group and local residents were busy knitting and folding paper to make the display on behalf of the PCC. This year we are planning to repeat the exercise, but we will be adding knitted and paper doves to the angels! It will make quite a display and will make the Carols by Candlelight service on Friday 22nd December even more magical.

We hope as many residents of the village will visit the Church to see the display. If you can knit and would like to get involved with this activity you can do so - contact the Heritage Group on campseaheritage@gmail.com or telephone 07934 762062.
